THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA STAFF BULLETIN

EDMONTON 7, ALBERTA

AUGUST 27, 1970

YASUKO BLENSEIM, Library Assistant in the Cameron Library, displays some of the books presented recently by The University of Alberta to the Canadian Information Centre at Tokyo's Sophia University. The collection of 50 books will help support a Canadian Studies program at the Japanese university.

MORE DITCHES

Pedestrians and motorists in the campus area may expect a further series of disruptions and hazards as construction commences on the fourth phase of the University's sewage distribution system. Most of the new construction will be in the region of the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium, Lister Hall, and 116 Street.

The new sewers will collect rainwater drainage from the southwest part of the campus, and connect with the University's deep sewer system.

A contract for this phase of the sewage distribution system has been awarded to Alta West Construction Limited by the Department of Public Works. Contract amount is $392,865. Other bids ranged up to $464,660.

Work will begin immediately, and continue until February. The terms of the contract include a schedule intended to cause minimum disruption to University operations and the work of other contractors.

The principal new disruptions are listed below. Some sections will be open trenches. Other parts will be tunnelled or bored, but working shafts to the surface will still cause some disruption to traffic.

116 STREET

Tunnelling operations will be underway immediately, and throughout September, on and under 116 Street, between 87 and 89 Avenues.

87 AVENUE

In late September, work will begin along 87 Avenue, from 114 to 116 Street. Part of this section will be trenched, part tunnelled.

LISTER HALL

A tunnel underneath the service road east of Lister Hall will be worked from November 8 to mid-February. It will extend from 87 Avenue south to the New Power Plant.

JUBILEE AUDITORIUM

A tunnel from 87 Avenue into the parking lot east of the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium will be undertaken in December and January.

In all of these areas, streets will be open to partial traffic at some times, and closed to all traffic at other times, as construction progresses.

MONTHLY CALENDAR

The University of Alberta Monthly Calendar appears in FOLIO for the first time this issue. It will be carried as a regular supplement (on a trial basis) at monthly intervals. The Monthly Calendar lists official meetings, important deadlines, and so on, and is intended to provide its users with a date-blotter oriented to the University year.

It was previously published on a more limited basis, and distributed only to department heads and other officials.

The Monthly Calendar is not intended to replace the regular FOLIO listing of public lectures, cultural, and general events, which will make its re-appearance next week as everyone gets ready for the arrival of the 20,000.

CORRECTED BUDGET FIGURES

The article in the August 13 issue of FOLIO concerning the University budgets was based on preliminary budget estimates. Corrected figures as approved by the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors have been received from L. C. LEITCH, Acting Vice-President (Finance and Administration).

The approved operating budget is $78,814,680, against expected revenues of $76,396,825, resulting in a deficit of $2,417,885. Direct teaching costs are estimated at $44,709,935, and after revenues of $949,200, this portion of the budget is reduced to a net of $43,760,735. Projected total operating revenues are $14,148,825, resulting in an overall net budget of $64,665,855.

VISITORS

■ JAMES SIDBURY, Director of the Clinical Research Unit and Professor of Pediatrics, Duke University School of Medicine, Durham, North Carolina, will present a lecture entitled "Mechanism of Cataract Formation" on Thursday, September 3, at 4 p.m. in Room 2-115 of the Clinical Sciences Building. The lecture will cover new work relating chemical changes in the lens to cataract formation. Dr. Sidbury's visit will be sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation.
